EDGAR CAYCE
GIVES DIAGNOSISHopkinsville Photographer's
Illustration of Strange Power.

USES HYPNOTIC SLEEP.

Then Describes Case in Medical Terms, Though He is Not a Physician.

Edgar Cayce, the young psychic diagnostician of Hopkinsville, gave an exhibition of his powers in Room 643 The Seelbach at 10:30 o'clock today, and made such a skillful analysis of the case of a man who was present that the latter went away thoroughly convinced that Cayce had read him through and through.

The man whose case was diagnosed is a well-known resident of Louisville, and had never seen Cayce until he came to his suite at the Seelbach today.

Mr. Cayce is a young man of mild manners and pleasing address. He admits that he has no knowledge of the source of his powers, which have attracted the attention of physicians all over the State, and says that he knows nothing whatever about medical science, anatomy or therapeutics. After reading a photographic record of one of his diagnoses, Mr. Cayce shakes his head and smiles.

"That's all Greek to me," he says; "I haven't the least idea what all that talk means."

HOW CAYCE GIVES READING.

When the patient announced that he was ready for the diagnosis, Mr. Cayce pulled off his coat, collar and tie and laid down on a couch which had been prepared for him by placing two tables end to end and covering them with a cloth. He placed his hands behind his head, closed his eyes and sighed deeply. Then he opened his eyes again and looked at the ceiling. His gaze drew dreamy, and a light crept into his eyes that betokened the coming trance. There was no suggestion of outward influence upon him until he finally closed his eyes and began to breathe very deeply. Then his father stepped to his side and taking the tube and mouthpiece leading to a blank phonograph record on a machine which had been connected with the electric current, he said:

"You are now going to sleep. All of your organs are performing their functions. You are in perfect health and at ease." He paused for a few seconds and then said: "Now, you are asleep."

A stenographer who had been secured for the occasion now drew her desk to the side of Cayce's couch and prepared to take his diagnosis. The man who had come to be examined grew fidgety and shifted in his chair. There was an intense look in his eyes.

Mr. Cayce's father then said: "Now go over this man carefully from head to foot and tell us what is the matter with him, if anything."

DIAGNOSIS GIVEN.

Mr. Cayce then began a technical description of the patient's symptoms, which would do justice to any physician in the land. He told him, in brief, that he was suffering from floating lesions of the spine, due to insufficient nutrition. He said that the patient experienced pains in the head, face, along the spinal column, and in the thigh. These pains, he said, were spasmodic, and were controlled in a measure, by the constitutional condition of the patient. He gave minute descriptions of the way in which lesions come about and the portions of the vertebrae affected.

When asked by his father if he could suggest a treatment, Mr. Cayce said that benefit would be derived from sodium phosphate, in moderate quantities, and strychnia. He also suggested electric treatment for the spine and massaging with the hands.

When he had concluded his diagnosis his father said:

"That patient has now disappeared. You will never see him again. In one minute and twenty seconds you will wake up."

Promptly to the second Mr. Cayce opened his eyes with a start, gazed

Nearly Smothered.

Chandler, N. C.—Mrs. Augusta Lomax, of this place, writes: "I had smothering spells every day, so bad that I expected death at any time. I could not sit up in bed. I suffered from womanly troubles. My nerves were unstrung. I had almost given up all hope of ever being better. I tried Cardui, and it did me more good than anything I had ever taken. I am better now than I ever expected to be." Thousands of ladies have written similar letters, telling of the merits of Cardui. It relieves their headache, backache and misery, just as it will relieve yours, if you will let it try.

widely about him for a moment, and then jumped from the couch.

When the phonograph record which had taken the diagnosis was repeated to him he smiled and said: "I don't know where those things come from."—Post.

WHY BE SO WEAK

Kidney Troubles May Be
Sapping Your Life Away

--Hopkinsville People

Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, kidney weakness may be the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Can Hopkinsville readers demand further proof than the following statement:

Mrs. A. T. Lee, two miles from Elkton, Ky., says: "Kidney disease clung to me for some time. My back was racked with pain and I really did not have strength enough to move. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me annoyance. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly advertised, my husband procured a box for me and I began their use. The first few doses brought relief and I continued using them until I was in good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

NO USE FOR WALKING STICK

Average American, in Hustle of Life, Has No Time for Unnecessary Cargo.

Now that we are reminded of it, we realize that the great American people are seldom seen to possess a walking stick. "It's a small thing," writes an essayist in a morning paper, "the absence of the walking stick, but it belongs to the American motto, never, in the hustle of life, carry unnecessary cargo."

The idea is, of course, fantastic with the fantasy of transatlantic common sense. The hustle of life surely extends to travel in the case of a nation which would consider itself degraded if it spent longer than a week in a complete journey through Europe; and when Americans travel they are the last to deny themselves the luxury of an extra bit of luggage because it happens to be unnecessary. It is common knowledge that they go on loading the liner with trunks until the company's officials say "Stop," if only to collect so many more steamship and hotel labels to add to their already bloated store of these trophies.

No. The walking stick is a matter purely of personal choice. Most Americans chance to feel no need for a walking stick whereas we do. That is how the thing stands. When it comes to a walking stick the world must be considered individually. The physical weakness is quite likely to have a taste for a gigantic club; the enormously powerful man who snaps his Sandow developer before breakfast as though it were a piece of cotton may select for a walking stick the thinnest shred of malacca that money can buy.—London Globe

HAVE YOU TRIED PAXTINE

The Great Toilet Germicide! You don't have to pay $100 or $1000 a pint for bacterian antiseptics or peroxide. You can make 16 pints of a more cleansing, germicidal, healing and deodorizing antiseptic solution with one 25c box of Paxtine—a soluble antiseptic powder, obtainable at any drug store.

Paxtine destroys germs that cause disease, decay and odors—that is why it is the best mouth wash and gargle, and why it purifies the breath, cleanses and preserves the teeth better than ordinary dentifrices, and in sponge bathing it completely eradicates perspiration and other disagreeable body odors. Every dainty woman appreciates this and its many other toilet and hygienic uses.

Paxtine is splendid for sore throat, inflamed eyes and to purify mouth and breath after smoking. You can get Paxtine Toilet Antiseptic at any drug store, price 25c and 50c, or by mail postpaid from The Paxtine Toilet Co., Boston, Mass., who will send you a free sample if you would like to try it before buying.
